01. Introduction —

Games and sports are an important parts of education. They help the physical and mental development of the student. "A sound mind in a sound body" is an old maxim. If we are weak and sick, we can not have a fertile brain. Games and sports keep us healthy. They make us active and smart.

02. Two kinds of games and sports —

Games can be divided into two categories: outdoor games and indoor games. Outdoor games are played in open space, on the playground. Football, tennis and cricket are outdoor games. Chess, ludo and carrom are indoor games which

The first thing that games teach us is that victory and defeat alike. They also teach as discipline. A sportsman learns team spirit which is very much essential for success in life. He knows the value of team spirit and can work in a group. This promotes international brotherhood and world peace too.

Q5. Conclusion

In short games and sports have great value in students' life. The foundation for a virtuous life is laid in school so our student must realise the importance of games and sports.
